ST. PATRICK'S PAID DEBTS WHEN CONTRACTORS DEFAULTED.

SUIT AGAINST SURETY CO.

Estell Griffey Sues for Divorce, Alimony and Custody of Children—Mason vs. the Wabash.

Many suits are being filed this week for the November term of circuit court, as Saturday is the last day to get service on civil and equity suits. Suits on notes, accounts and back taxes can be filed after Saturday, as only fifteen days' service is required.

A suit was brought Friday by Cook, Cummins & Dawson for the St. Patrick's Catholic school against Riggs & Ellsberry and the National Surety company. The petition states that on July 15, 1910, a contract for the building of the St. Patrick's Catholic school building was given to Cyrus Riggs and Henry Ellsberry at a price of $15,662, the contractors to pay for such material as was needed in the erection of the building. The petition alleges that the contractors failed and neglected to pay divers persons, sub-contractors and material men, and that the unpaid bills constituted a charge upon and a lien against the school building.

Following are those who were not paid by the contractors and the amounts: Phares Lumber company, $2,023.90; Andrews & Co., $166.96; Baker & Hill, $347; William Armstrong, $133; Furback & Hurt, $90; Lincoln Bent, $750; Mark Cummins, $71.19; total, $3,528.04. The petition claims that as $2,811.75 remained on the contract price, this amount being held back until the completion of the building, was pro-rated among these sub-contractors and material men, leaving a balance of $770.19 that still remained unpaid. That this amount of $770.19 was paid by the St. Patrick's Catholic school.

Demands were made on the National Surety company for the $770.19 by reason of and on account of terms of said bonds executed by the said surety company, and that the payment was refused by that company. Suit for $7,831.50, the penalty of said bond, and that the same may be satisfied upon payment due plaintiff of the above mentioned amount, of $770.19.

Cyrus Riggs, one of the contractors, left Maryville soon after the completion of the building, and it is understood is living in Pennsylvania. It is said that he had charge of paying off these sub-contractors, and that Henry Ellsberry of this city had nothing to do with that part of the work.

Another suit filed by Cook, Cummins & Dawson was for A. O. Mason against the Wabash Railway company for being so careless and negligent in shipping two car loads of sheep for the plaintiff. Suit for $100 is asked for.

Another divorce suit for the November term. Estell Griffey is suing her husband, John Leslie Griffey. The petition states that they were married in Iowa on September 13, 1899, and lived together until October 1, 1911, and that on this date the defendant assaulted plaintiff, striking her with his clenched fists, knocking her down and breaking plaintiff's ribs, and that since that time and now she is under the care of a physician. Two children were born, one aged 11 and the other 8. The plaintiff asked for a divorce and the care and custody of the children and such alimony as the court sees fit to give to her. Cook, Cummins & Dawson are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

400 YEARS AGO YESTERDAY.

Discovery of America on This Date in the Year 1492.

Four hundred and eleven years ago yesterday the land in which we live was first discovered by a white man. October 12, 1492, Christopher Columbus took possession of the new world in the name of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella, and yesterday that event was commemorated in hundreds of places throughout the United States.

The anniversary was the occasion for a celebration by the Knights of Columbus, and in all of the great cities of the country that order was commemorating the discovery by exercises in keeping with the event.

In many states the day was a legal holiday, and so far as possible all business was suspended.

CHILDREN'S PARADE

PARADE TO START AT 2

Carnival Queen, With Maids of Honor and Pages, Will Lead, While Band Makes Music.

The children's parade on Saturday afternoon is going to be just as sweet as the wedding, if the weather is good. Everything depends on the weather, because all of the children who will take part in the parade are all ready to do their best and the committee in charge, County Superintendent W. M. Oakerson, Mrs. Berney Harris, Miss Besse Scott, Mrs. M. A. Turner and Mrs. J. W. May have worked hard to make the parade pleasurable, interesting and beautiful to the street fair crowds.

Everyone who is to take part in the parade must be at the Empire theater at 1:30 o'clock, where the line will form. The parade, headed by the Maryville band, will start promptly at 2 o'clock.

Directly following the band will be the little Carnival Queen, Marie Cloud, and her maids of honor and pages.

Then will come 100 little girls in white carrying red and white pom-poms.

The Boy Scouts will then follow as guardsmen to the Carnival Queen and her retinue.

The little maids of honor will be in the county jail, besides James J. McNamara and his brother, John J. McNamara, indicted with him and waiting a separate trial are the 12 men who temporarily were drafted into the jury box for preliminary examination when court adjourned. Though it had been expected that the process of getting a jury would constitute a perfunctory and monotonous chapter in the trial, likely to drag through many weeks, the situation, as a result of questioning of veniremen, has changed somewhat and it now is believed that many a clash will ensue between counsel over the question of competency of talesmen who have formed opinions concerning warfare between capital and union labor.

MARIE CLOUD,
Queen of the Children's Carnival.

Alice Peery, Ruth Bookman, Glad Bookman, Gladys Morehouse, Madeline Strawn, Justine Fraser and Bernice Crawford.

The pages will be Clifford and R. Hull, John and George Thompson, Eugene and Ralph Yehle.

There will be fully thirty floats and vehicles, beautiful in decoration, in the parade, drawn by teams of children.

There will be a miniature wedding party; Madam Butterfly will be there in her float, also Peter-Peter-Punkin-Eater, and so many other things that we have not the time to mention now.

Suffice it to say the children's parade will be a fitting closing day for the street fair—'twill be the crowning event. Little bits of folks are going to march. Some of them not over 2 years old.

Bankruptcy Asked for Becker Firm.

The following article is taken from an Oklahoma City paper and is about John H. Becker, formerly in business in Maryville, and who was a partner of W. A. Miller in the Bee Hive shoe store:

John H. Becker of Oklahoma City, trading as the John H. Becker Clothing company, is accused of making an assignment for the purpose of defeating the purpose of the bankruptcy law. In that certain creditors are preferred. A petition that Becker be declared a bankrupt was filed at Guthrie Monday by the C. M. Haddon Co. of Baltimore and several other clothing firms, declaring that Robert Holtschue was made assignee and that some creditors were assigned property to the prejudice of others, and that the assignment was with the purpose of hindering and defrauding the creditors represented in the bankruptcy petition.

MANAGER STREET HERE.

Was in Conference With Public Works Board This Afternoon.

E. L. Street, general manager of the city water company, arrived in Maryville Friday noon from New York City. Mr. Street met this afternoon with the board of public works and some matters as to the work of the engineers were gone over.

Mr. Street, with the two engineers hired by the board of public works—Hiram Phillips and Burns & McDonold—will go over the water plant and it will probably take several days' time. However, a report of the findings of the engineers will be submitted probably in November, and at that time the board will be in better position to make definite plans for the future.

FAIR RAINED OUT

HEAVY DOWNPOUR LAST NIGHT KEPT PEOPLE AT HOME.

LARGE CROWD HERE TODAY

Fraternal Parade Tonight Expected to Be Big Feature—Record Breaking Crowd Expected Saturday.

This Evening's Program.

Quads of attorneys presented a busy scene notwithstanding the official report and it was apparent that both sides have not yet made ready for the more important days of the trial, when the testimony of witnesses will be received.

In the county jail, besides James J. McNamara and his brother, John J. McNamara, indicted with him and waiting a separate trial are the 12 men who temporarily were drafted into the jury box for preliminary examination when court adjourned. Though it had been expected that the process of getting a jury would constitute a perfunctory and monotonous chapter in the trial, likely to drag through many weeks, the situation, as a result of questioning of veniremen, has changed somewhat and it now is believed that many a clash will ensue between counsel over the question of competency of talesmen who have formed opinions concerning warfare between capital and union labor.

FEDERAL AID FOR GOOD ROADS

At a Convention in Hobart, Ok., Senator Owen Said Government Should Help.

Hobart, Ok., Oct. 13.—Several hundred delegates from 11 counties are in convention here and arrangements are to be perfected to link every one of the centers with a good road along the lines laid down by Sidney Suggs, state highway commissioner. Clinton Correll, Snyder, Frederick, Mangum, places to Snyder.

hotels and boarding houses were full. They were unable to go home on account of the rain and the electrical storm.

Friday a large crowd is in the city. The sun was shining brightly at times and everyone was wishing for good clear weather the rest of the week.

The Fraternal parade this evening at 7:30 is to be the special feature of the day's program. The parade will start at the Empire theater, and the Owls, Woodmen, Odd Fellows and the Elks lodges will participate in the parade.

All of the free attractions were given today.

Saturday, the closing day of the fair, will be the banner day. Many special features are to be given, and if the weather is clear a record breaking crowd will be in the city.

WEDDING PLEASED HIM.

Harry Bollinger Thanks Merchants for Presents.

I desire to thank the people of Maryville for their kind and cordial treatment and for their gifts, which were many, beautiful and useful, and for the many kind wishes for myself and bride. The committee for the street fair wedding was especially courteous and kind, and I shall always have the kindest feelings for the merchants and people of Maryville.

HARRY W. BOLLINGER.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Peery of Albany were the street fair wedding guests of Mr. Peery's brother, M. A. Peery, and family.

Mrs. L. V. Lawler of Albany, who has been the guest of Mrs. J. B. Robinson, returned home Friday.

GABE DEAN DROWNS

QUITMAN MAN WENT DOWN WITH WAGON IN STREAM.

BROTHER CAUGHT ON TREE

Returning Wagon After Coming to Street Fair—Team Was Also Drowned.

Gabe Dean, who lives in a tenant house of J. S. Carden farm, three miles southeast of Quitman, was drowned Thursday night in Sand creek, while attempting to cross the bridge over that stream with a team and wagon. On account of the heavy rain or cloudburst over in the Quitman vicinity Thursday night, all of the creeks were over bank full, and badly swollen. His brother, Joseph Dean, was with him in the wagon and he was caught on a tree near the bridge and was rescued two and a half hours later.

Gabe Dean and his family and Joseph Dean and his family came to Maryville Thursday in a wagon belonging to J. S. Carden, to attend the street fair. They started for their homes Thursday evening, reaching Gabe Dean's house, on the Carden place, a short time after the rain was over. They left their families there and the two men undertook to take the team and wagon back to the Carden place. It was reported that the water was up to the Dean house at this time, and the two men attempted to cross the creek with the team and wagon to see if it was safe enough to take their families over to a neighboring house.

On attempting to cross the bridge the current caught the wagon, causing it to go in the badly swollen stream with the team of horses, and Gabe Dean was carried down with the wagon, while Joseph Dean caught hold of a tree and held on until rescued. The team of horses drowned.

The body of the drowned man was recovered Friday morning. He leaves a wife and a family of four children, the oldest child being 18 years old and the youngest a baby of 8 months. His parents live in Gentry county. Mr. Dean was about 40 years old and was a workman on the Carden place.

BRIDGES WASHED OUT.

And Railroad Track Out in West Part of the County.

Rain amounting to 1.17 inches fell in Maryville Thursday evening. A heavy rain was had around Quitman and Burlington Junction, while over the rest of the county probably over an inch or so was had. The rain was accompanied by an electrical storm.

On the Burlington railroad, in the west part of the county, a mile of track between Quitman and Skidmore was washed out, and about 300 feet of track was washed out near Burlington Junction. The trains today on that branch are running only to Skidmore from the south, and to Burlington Junction from the north.

A large number of culverts and bridges were also washed out in the west part of the county. A bridge on the Burlington between Skidmore and Quitman was washed out.

County Highway Engineer Reece received word Friday morning from the bridge gang that has been putting in a bridge near Hopkins that their tent was carried away, and that about thirty yards of sand was washed away. Also the tool box had been washed away. The bridge gang was staying on the William Alexander place, three miles south of Hopkins.

Misses Lena and Vesta Andrews of Tarkio arrived Friday to be street fair guests of Miss Ethel Abbott, a State Normal student, who makes her home with Mrs. L. D. Cook, 208 West Sixth street.

Mrs. Alex Fraser and son, Walter Fraser, of near Orrsburg, returned Friday from Omaha, where they attended the Ak-Sar-Ben festival and visited Mrs. Fraser's sister, Mrs. H. Hamilton.

Remember Robinson's sale of mammoth Poland-China hogs tomorrow afternoon.

One week of strike of two hundred thousand steamship and railway men in England endangered the food supplies of forty millions of people, says the Cincinnati Inquirer. It brought to the attention of the world the dependence of the British people upon foreign sources for their daily sustenance. It has been known for years that a month of complete cessation of importation of food supplies to Britain would reduce the masses of the people to a state of starvation. Under these circumstances their stores of reserve provisions can only be classed as exceedingly limited.

The daily riots in France upon the account of the high prices of articles of food point precisely to the same state of affairs there. If there were reserves of food in the homes of the people there would be no struggles for bread in the markets or the shops, and it is thus made evident that despite the recognized frugality of the people of France pressing want is in many of the households of that republic. From many cities of the German empire petitions are being forwarded to the government asking that all taxes upon food products be suspended until the prices of food have lowered, and in the fatherland we have again the same evidence of want of reserves of food in the homes that we have shown in Great Britain and in France.

We have taken the three favored and most prosperous nations of Europe, and the above is their status as to food supplies as exhibited within their boundaries within the past month. We pass by Spain, Italy, Austria and Russia, for the struggle for daily existence of the masses of the people is known to the whole world. What a market for the products of the soil Europe affords. What a certainty of profit to the producer of food, the farmer, does the world-wide demand for his products guarantee!

The banker may close his safes and hoard his cash from all calls save that of hunger. He cannot do without the farmer. The sailor must provision his craft if he leaves the coast but a day. He is anchored until provided for by the cultivator of the soil. The swiftest trains would be abandoned by their passengers if not supplied by the producers who till the land.

Neither capitalists nor labor unions would be arrayed against each other for one hundred hours if the farmers would strike and refuse them food. The cultivator of the soil is pre-eminently the master of the situation in the world today, and the prices of fertile acres of land will continue to increase until the production of food supplies fully equals the demand. That is not likely to occur for decades, and the farmer will be in the saddle or the automobile for many years to come.

Mrs. Roy Wolfers of Pickering was in Maryville Friday forenoon, returning home from Omaha, where she visited her sister, Mrs. L. R. Stonecker, while enjoying the Ak-Sar-Ben festival.

HARRY TURNER IS DEAD.

Member of Chicago Live Stock Firm Was Formerly Maryville Man.

News of the death of Harry M. Turner of Chicago Thursday night by A. T. Stephenson, who is an uncle of Mrs. Turner, and Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Shoemaker, intimate friends of the Turners. The news of Mr. Turner's death was quite a shock to Maryville relatives and friends, as no news of his illness had reached them.

The telegram was from Mrs. Turner, and stated that the body would be brought to Maryville for burial. A later telegram will announce the time of arrival.

Mr. Turner was a member of the live stock commission firm of McCausland-Hoag-Turner of Chicago, where he had been for many years. Mrs. Turner is a daughter of the late Edward Stephenson of this city, and was Miss Mary Stephenson. She has a sister, Mrs. John M. Holt of Miles City, Mont., who is expected to arrive in Maryville for the burial services. Another sister, Mrs. Joseph Craig of San Diego, Cal., died several years ago.

It is thought that Mr. Turner's death came suddenly, as he had completely recovered from his severe illness of a year ago.

ARE OFFERING PRIZES.

Rural Schools Are to Give Prizes in the Spelling Contest.

Quite an interest is being taken in the spelling contest that is to be held soon under the direction of County Superintendent Oakerson. Local prizes are being offered by some of the rural school districts. The Morgan school district, in Hughes township, has offered three prizes of $1 each to the three who are selected from that district for the township spelling contest. Then if the three, or any one of them, are successful in the township contest a prize of $1 each will be given. If the one from that district wins in the county contest a prize of $5 is offered.

Two Big Fruit Shows.

The Missouri State board of horticulture of Columbia announces that two big fruit shows are to be held this fall and winter in Missouri. The first will be at Hannibal, Nov. 15th, and will last two or three days. Two hundred dollars in cash prizes will be offered for fruit to be shown.

At Columbia, January 9-12, 1912, on the occasion of the fifty-fourth annual meeting of the State Horticultural society, there will be a still greater fruit show, at which about three hundred dollars will be offered in such prizes. Premium lists are now being sent out by Secretary Howard. Fruit should be selected at once and sent by express to the board of horticulture, care of A. J. Stillwell Cold Storage Co., Hannibal, Mo. It will be kept free of charge and exhibited at both places. At both Hannibal and Columbia attractive programs will be rendered. Many persons prominent in the fruit business of the state will read papers and take part in the discussions. These are good opportunities for beginners in fruit growing to acquire a lot of valuable information from experts.

DID MOSES MAKE MISTAKE?

We have often heard "the mistakes of Moses" in the first chapter of Genesis commented upon, but what especially strikes us in that chapter is not its contraventions of science, but its harmonies with late discoveries. How did the writer, many centuries before the story of the rocks had been deciphered, know that there was a beginning and then a pause before life appeared on the earth? Who taught the writer that the earth was "without form and void" before it was divided into continents? How came it that the long delayed, slow emergence of land should be set forth as it is? Was it mere guesswork that prompted the writer to say grasses were created before animals, and not for animals already existent? Is it a happy accident that life in the water appears before life upon the land? And ages before the scientist dreamed of paleontology we find man last in the series just as he appears today by his remains in the drift instead of in the stratified rocks? Further investigation may explain discrepancies, but what except inspiration can account for these coincidences?—The Advance.

WILL RUN IN THE FAMILY

Boy Gently Breaks to Father the News of His Expulsion From School.

"That boy will be the death of me some day!" declared the head of the family. "I'm sure I don't know where he gets all his impudence and self-assurance—surely not from me. He returned home from school the other day to spend the holidays, as I supposed, and, entering my office, he threw his hat on the floor, selected an easy-chair, put his feet on my desk, lit a cigarette, inhaled a few puffs, and then, turning languidly to me, he drawled:

"I say, dad, do you remember the time when you were expelled from school?"

"I did. There was no use denying it, for one day in a burst of confidence I had told him some of my escapades as a boy, and lived to regret that I had been so indiscreet.

"Well," said he, "history has repeated itself."

"What do you mean, you rascal?" I roared.

"Oh," said he, easily, "I've been expelled, too. Astonishing, isn't it, dad, how such things will run in a family?"

Banks Guarded by Soldiers.

Like the Bank of England, the Bank of France is now guarded every night by soldiers, who do sentry duty outside the building, a watch being likewise kept inside its precincts. But within quite recent time the officials at the French bank resorted to a very novel method of protecting their bullion. This consisted in engaging masons to wall up the doors of the vaults in the cellar with hydraulic mortar as soon as the money was deposited each day in these receptacles. The water was then turned on and kept running until the whole cellar was flooded. A burglar would be obliged to work in a living silt and break down a cement wall before he could even begin to plunder the vaults. When the bank officials arrived next morning the water was drawn off, the masonry torn down and the vaults opened. Curiously enough, within a few months after this obsolete manner of protecting the bank's cash was done away with, burglars did actually get into the vaults and decamp with about $45,000 in gold coin.—Strand Magazine.

How Tourists Economize.

A comedy of economy is reported from St. Moritz. A stout couple, accompanied by a son and daughter who were also "thick," as the Germans translate stout, entered a crowded hotel at the busy time of lunch and ordered one lunch at table d'hôte. The father sat down and finished two helpings of soup and all the bread near him and left the table, his place being taken for the entrees by his wife, who had been waiting with her children in the hotel corridor until her husband appeared.

The young man then took his mother's place to attack the joint, and he was followed by his sister for the sweets, all doing justice to the menu. In the crowd the tourists did not notice the unusual lunch, but the head waiter did, and when asked for the bill presented one for four lunches. The paterfamilias grumbled a good deal—and paid!

Swiss English.

Swiss English always seems designed to round off the scenery with the touch of humor. For years the best in the writer's collection has been an inscription by a path leading to a waterfall near Melringen, which explained that a toll was necessary for "the foundation and untainting" of that path. Until last month, however, there was nothing quite equal to the Strasburg cathedral notice: "Express interdiction to circulate during divine service. Beadle have to preserve order." But Switzerland has at last tied with Germany now in the collection. In a certain Oberland valley, too unspoiled yet to be given away by name, there is a series of gates which bear a short request in Oberland German to the wayfarer to close them. And twice it is translated into English "Shut up!"—London Chronicle.

YOUNG UNTIL THIRTY-FIVE

When does a woman cease to be young? Woman herself, for reasons that require no elaboration here, declines, as a rule, to fix the period. Masculine authorities, for the most part, are chary of venturing upon such dangerous ground. Hence the question has ever been involved in uncertainty and it would perhaps remain so were it not that a responsible authority—none other than the Young Woman's Christian association, the title of which indicates its competency—comes to the front with a decision which may fairly be accepted as conclusive. It is to the Boston branch of the association that the world is indebted for the solution of the problem. The occasion for solving it arose from the completion of a new home for the young women of the association in the Massachusetts city. In framing rules for this establishment, it was found necessary to specify precisely the limit of young womanhood, beyond which the benefits of the home could not be enjoyed. This has been fixed at 35 years. Up to that age a young woman comes within the meaning of the title as understood by the association and may enjoy the advantages of membership and residence in the home. On reaching her thirty-fifth birthday she must resign her quarters. On that fatal day her young womanhood ceases and the "old maid" label is placed upon her indelibly and irrevocably. Thus the matter is settled beyond further cavil or dispute.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

TO RELIEVE THE HICCUGHS

Sucking Ice or Taking Salt and Vinegar Often Will Cure Simple Cases.

Simple cases of hiccup are often relieved by such measures as sucking ice or taking salt and vinegar. Pulling the tongue forward and holding it for some time is an effective procedure.

Sometimes obstinate hiccup is relieved when the patient is strong by having him hang with the arms extended and grasping some beam or pole, so that his feet do not touch the floor. With all the abdominal muscles tense, have him hold his breath as long as possible.

The spelling "hiccup" is recent, being a combination of the syllables "hic" and the latter term of "cough," which is without either physiological or etymological basis; the pronunciation, with perhaps the rarest exception, is still that of the older form "hiccup," earlier given variously—as "hiccup," "hickupsnickup," "hiccup," "hiccock," "hichcock" and "hickett," with quasi-diminishing suffixes ack, etc.; but the "hic," a syllable aptly expressive of the spasmodic sound produced by the conditions giving rise to the particular disturbance, is found in all references to the origin of the term which the writer has been able to obtain. The term singultus is rarely used.—New York Medical Journal.

Curing Forgetfulness.

I used to be very forgetful, and could not remember half the time where I had put things around the house, says a writer in Harper's Bazar. Finally I hit on this scheme.

I live in the upper flat of a two-family house, and there are just eight rooms in our flat. I got a big white sheet of paper, and wrote on it the names of the eight rooms, and beside the name of each room I wrote the name of a certain place in that room. I decided that every time I put anything out of my hands for a minute I would put it in the place beside the name of that room on the paper.

The paper I tacked up in a conspicuous place in my own room. By using this system I always knew just where to look for things, and after a little while I got so in the habit of putting things in certain places and of remembering where I put them that I no longer needed the paper.

Lifting Fire Hose by Elevators.

The latest idea for raising water for fire-extinguishing purposes to the uppermost floors of tall buildings is to lift the hose by means of the passenger or freight elevators. A simple attachment is provided for affixing the hose to the floor of the elevator, the pipe being coiled up in the bottom of the shaft so as to be easily raised.

In a recent demonstration at Memphis, Tenn., says Popular Mechanics, it was said that the water arrived at the sixth floor of a building practically as soon as the floor was reached by the elevator, and the fire chief of that city recommended the compulsory adoption of the device by all buildings provided with elevators. The hose is inserted in the attachment about two sections behind the discharge nozzle, these sections being coiled on the elevator floor.

The Broken Heart.

"The party will recover from this check," said Mayor Craig of Covington, apropos of a temporary setback. "They say the party will be broken. I'd reply that it will be about as much broken as young Lansing's heart."

"A chorus girl who had refused young Lansing said to a friend: 'I have broken his heart, I fear.'"

"You have. You certainly have," the friend replied, "You've broken it right in half."

"I mean? What do you mean?"

"I mean that he takes two girls out to supper every night now."

WHY HE USED THE BAD WORD

Little Matt Explained That the Two Pigs He Was Driving Got His Goat.

Matt Perkins, engine driver on the New York Central, thought his little farm, out near Peekskill, wouldn't be complete without pigs. So he bought a couple and had them sent out, much to the dismay of Willie, his oldest boy, who tearfully protested that the family would be disgraced if their acquaintances found they kept pigs.

But the father was obdurate, and assigned to Matt, Jr., his six-year-old and youngest hopeful, the task of caring for the pigs. This has proved a hard task, and little Matt has been having his troubles during the hot weather.

One day the pigs, being pigs, roamed far afield. Matt, rounding them up, drove them past the veranda, where his mother happened to be. Matt was talking to the pigs in no uncertain terms, and it must be confessed he used a word which he really should not. Where he got it no one knows.

The mother promptly called him to task, and Matt, having penned in the pigs, returned, hot and red of face, to the veranda.

"Mattie," said his mother, sternly, "I shall have to punish you. I heard you say a naughty word."

"Well, I guess I did," was the lad's penitent rejoinder, "but you see, mamma, them pigs jest got my goat."

WHY THEIR PARENTS DIED

Applicants for Life Insurance Give Some Astonishing Information in Filling Out Blanks.

Naturally applicants for life insurance may be expected to put as good a face as possible on the reports concerning relatives and the causes of their deaths, but they sometimes make rather amusing statements. Some one has collected a few of these which were originally published in the British Medical Journal:

"Mother died in infancy." "Father went to bed feeling well and the next morning woke up dead." "Grandfather died suddenly at the age of one hundred and three. Up to this time he had fair to reach a ripe old age." "Applicant does not know cause of mother's death, but states that she fully recovered from her last illness." "Applicant has never been fatally sick." "Applicant's brother, who was an infant, died when he was a mere child." "Grandfather died from gun shot wound caused by an arrow shot by an Indian." "Applicant's fraternal parents died when he was a child." "Mother's last illness was caused from chronic rheumatism, but she was cured before death." "Father died suddenly; nothing serious."—Journal of the American Medical Association

June Bug Causes Alarm.

F. M. Clements of Kansas City, a traveling representative of a fire alarm telegraph company, has had many amusing experiences in the fire fighting business. He vouches for the truth of his anecdotes.

"A June bug, one of the lightning variety, caused a general alarm of fire to be turned in in Washington, D. C., several years ago, and caused the wildest excitement throughout the city," he said. "The alarm was turned in from one of the government buildings—the army building, I think."

"The June bug had been buzzing about an office in which there was a very nervous clerk. The clerk went after the poor little bug with a broom. He held the brush end of the broom in his hand and struck at the bug with the stick. He became so excited he did not know he had hit off the automatic general alarm until fire wagons bore down upon the building from all directions and a crowd of thousands had gathered."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

EFFICIENCY.

How Many Men Know How to Keep It at Par.

Thousands; yes tens of thousands of men, grow old ten years too soon.

If you are a man and realize that your efficiency is on the wane and that you are losing money and happiness in consequence, get a 50-cent box of Mi-o-ni stomach tablets today and take two after or with each meal for three days; then take one with each meal regularly until you feel well and vigorous.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets disinfect, tone up, restore elasticity to the stomach and intestinal canal and end indigestion. They do more; they increase the nutrition of the body, and in case of nerve exhaustion, sleeplessness, night sweats, bad dreams or any condition that requires a restorative, they act with astonishing rapidity. They can be found at the Orear-Henry Drug Co. and helpful druggists the world over.

THE QUIET YOUNG MAN

Greatly Differs From One Who Blatantly Shouts Sentiments.

The man who blatantly shouts his sentiments—generally without much regard to those of others—and the quiet one who, when occasion demands, has the courage of his convictions, are two persons belonging in widely different categories of character. A contributor to the Atlantic Monthly, writing of "The Country Minister," tells the following little story—not lacking in dramatic coloring:

The other day, in a slow moving freight train, hours behind time, dragging its rumbling length over a branch railway, the passengers gathered at the end of the ill-smelling coach and talked as friends in discomfort.

Somehow the conversation turned to religious affairs, and a cattleman delivered some ponderous remarks concerning Bible history, highly colored with disbelief. After he had held the floor for some time, a quiet young man asked, as if for information:

"My friend, can you read Hebrew?"

"No, I never studied things like that," admitted the cattleman.

"How about Latin and Greek?"

"Never went to college," was the grudging answer.

"Have you read Plutarch or Herodotus in translation?"

"No."

"Well, I have studied the Scriptures in three languages, and have spent years on ancient history. It seems to me that you ought to learn something before you presume to criticize."

Then he gave the little audience a straightforward talk on the Word, taking up every assertion of the unbeliever's argument and disposing of it. At the end, the passengers applauded, and the cattleman was heard no more.

The quiet young man was pastor of a little church in a prairie village, but he dwelt there in an atmosphere of study and militant religious effort.

So the Fish Won't Leak.

The late Professor Corson of Cornell, said a Cornell instructor, "had little sympathy with the freakish philologists of the modern school."

"I once quoted to Professor Corson an extremely interesting and odd analogy that had just been suggested for a Celtic word. He smiled, and said that the analogy was about as probable as that which linked fish scales to shingles."

A little girl, he explained, once asked her mother:

"Are scales fastened on fish like shingles on a roof?"

"Yes, dear," the mother answered.

"They're put on that way, of course," said the little girl, "to keep the fish from leaking."—New York Tribune.

New York's Well Defended.

Foreign Enemy—Then you think it is useless for us to attack the country by way of New York?

Assistant—Certainly. Our investigations tell us that it is impossible. First we would have to pass a trained army of customs inspectors, then a squad of quarantine officials, and what was left of us would be swept away by a picked delegation of reporters asking us how we liked the country.—Puck.

HADLEY HELPED STOP DISPUTE

Politics Threatened to Mar Waterway Convention in Chicago.

TRANSPORTATION WAS HIS TOPIC

When Storm of Personal Questions Arose, Missouri's Governor Was Introduced and Disturbers Called to Order.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 13.—Discussions which gave promise of development into political controversy were smothered quickly at the opening session of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway association, which was attended by more than 1,000 delegates.

Following an address by Isham Randolph, an engineer of the sanitary district, on the "Drainage Canal," several members of the convention not in harmony with the views of Mr. Randolph, who favors Gov. C. S. Deneen's policy regarding the waterways, began a storm of questions relating to the governor's policy. They promptly were called to order by President William K. Kavanaugh, in accordance with his promise made a few minutes before in his opening address.

Gov. Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri was introduced before further discussion could arise. More incidents of this character are expected but President Kavanaugh insists political controversies will be crushed out of the convention, should an attempt be made to inject them into the discussions.

"The question of transportation determines the character of the poor man's breakfast and the rich man's home," said Gov. Hadley. "One-third of the cost of living is due to the expense of transportation. And thus, this question enters as a controlling influence into the success or failure of every single human life."

"And those who have the power, and by virtue of the power, exercise the privileges of controlling and conducting the means of transportation, have the power and exercise the privilege of levying tribute upon the labor and the frugality of the people whom they serve. And experience has shown that this power cannot be safely left to any man or set of men free from the regulation of competition or the superior power of governmental control."

"The necessity of the improvement of our inland waterways for the purposes of transportation is not only necessary and advisable from the standpoint of effective rate regulation, but its necessity has been frequently demonstrated for the purpose of securing the means by which freight can be transported at all."

"The duty of improving the waterways belongs alone to the national government. Water transportation means land reclamation. If the government would perform the duty incident to the exclusive right it possesses of improving the rivers for the purpose of transportation much, if not all of 20,000,000 acres of land, now swamps or impaired by overflows, could be made available for the production of certain annual harvest."

UNION CAR WORKERS QUIT WORK

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Two hundred members of the International Car Workers association quit work at the Burnside shops of the Illinois Central railroad because they were asked to work with strikebreakers. The car workers' union is not affiliated with the system federation and the members of the car workers' union did not join the strikers. But they warned the railroad officials that they would not work with non-union men. When strikebreakers were brought into their department the union car workers picked up their tools and walked out of the shops.

Stucky's Bond Worthless.

Topeka, Oct. 13.—W. M. Stucky, the Williamsburg preacher who ran away with Lorena Sutherland, not only has evaded punishment but his bondsmen have been absolved of liability for his disappearance. His appeal bond was signed by Ottawa men, and when efforts were made to collect on it for $2,000 the district court held that it was worthless because of technical errors.

Held Synod on a Train.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 13.—Covering three counties, a single session of the Missouri Presbyterian Synod, began on a special train out of Springfield and continued through Greene, Stone and Taney counties to Hollister, Mo. There a session and a dinner was held.

New Postoffice for Warrsburg. Warrsburg, Mo., Oct. 13.—The corner stone of the new government building in this city was laid under the auspices of the local Masonic lodge. The principal address was made by F. A. Leach of Kansas City. The building will cost $75,000.

GRAND JURY IN SESSION A YEAR

McNamara Inquiry Occupied Almost Entire Time.

LONGEST SERVICE EVER KNOWN

Has Just Made Final Report and Been Discharged—Selection of Trial Jury to be Hard Battle Between Counsel.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 13.—After serving ten days less than a year the grand jury which indicted John J. McNamara, his brother, James B. McNamara, and six others for murder in connection with the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times building has made its final report and been discharged. Officials here were unable to find record of any grand jury which had served so long a time.

The jury was empaneled by Judge Walter Bordwell October 22, 1910. Three days later it concentrated its attention upon the Times explosion case, to the exclusion of everything else. The first fruits of its labors were the secret indictments January 8 against "James B. Bryce" and two others. March 14 the same jury found that victims of the Times disaster met death in wreck and fire caused by a dynamite explosion, and April 15 it returned the indictments against the two McNamaras and against Orville McManigal, who later signed a formal statement concerning his knowledge of the case.

Since returning those indictments the grand jury has found little time to take into consideration other matters, and has returned from time to time to consideration of the case to investigate which it was gathered.

The extensive offices of the two squads of attorneys presented a busy scene notwithstanding the official respite and it was apparent that both sides have not yet made ready for the more important days of the trial, when the testimony of witnesses will be received.

In the county jail, besides James B. McNamara and his brother, John J. McNamara, indicted with him and awaiting a separate trial are the 12 veniremen who temporarily were drafted into the jury box for preliminary examination when court adjourned. Though it had been expected that the process of getting a jury would constitute a perfunctory and monotonous chapter in the trial, likely to drag through many weeks, the situation, as a result of questioning of veniremen, has changed somewhat and it now is believed that many a clash will ensue between counsel over the question of competency of talesmen who have formed opinions concerning warfare between capital and union labor.

At a Convention in Hobart, Ok., Senator Owen Said Government Should Help.

Hobart, Ok., Oct. 13.—Several hundred delegates from 11 counties are in convention here and arrangements are to be perfected to link every one of the centers with a good road along the lines laid down by Sidney Suggs, state highway commissioner. Clinton, Correll, Snyder, Frederick, Mangum, Anadarko, Chickasha, Mountain Park, Lone Wolf, Bessie, Rocky, Roosevelt, Coal Springs, Granite, Mountain View and many other small towns are represented.

Senator Owen urged the carrying out of the plans outlined and dwelt on the economy and social benefits from the building of good roads. He placed himself unequivocally on record for national aid and said that the spending of money on battle ships and preparing for war would be better directed if placed on the highways of the nation.

Pupils Drank Bad Water.

Independence, Mo., Oct. 13.—Fourteen cases of typhoid fever having developed among the high school pupils of Greenwood, Dr. J. W. Greene, secretary of the board of health, went there to conduct an investigation and learned that all had been using water out of the well in the high school yard. The well was ordered closed and Dr. Greene is having an examination made of the water.

Three Deaths From Ptomaine.

Lawton, Ok., Oct. 13.—The second and third death in the family of S. W. McAlexander from ptomaine poisoning, caused by eating infected sardines, occurred when Nancy and Ethel, daughters, died. The wife died a few days ago in Montague, Tex.

Would Keep Gas Home.

Pawhuska, Ok., Oct. 13.—The committee appointed by the Osage Indian mass meeting last June recommended leasing of all Osage lands for the remainder of the reservation time, about 21 years. It urges that all gas found be retained in Osage county to induce the location of factories.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't look old before your time. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what an improvement it will make in the appearance of your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agents, Koch Pharmacy.

A marriage license was issued Friday to Cleo A. Johnson of Stanberry and Bertha A. Hammonds of Ravenwood.

HELPFUL WORDS

From a Maryville Citizen.

If your back lame and painful?

Does it ache especially after exertion?

Is there a soreness in the kidney region?

These symptoms indicate weak kidneys;

There is danger in delay.

Weak kidneys fast get weaker. Give your trouble prompt attention.

Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly.

They strengthen weak kidneys.

Read this Maryville testimony:

Mrs. M. Lahr, 212 West Fifth street, Maryville, Mo., says: "I cannot say too much in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. This excellent remedy promptly relieved me of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble. During the several years that have since passed I have had no return attack of my complaint. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a specific for kidney disease."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

IF YOU HAVE A SICKLY YOUNGSTER TRY THIS FREE

The family with young children that is without sickness in the house now and then is rare, and so it is important that the head of the household should know what to do in the little emergencies that arise. A child with a serious ailment needs a doctor, it is true, but in the majority of instances, as any doctor knows, the child suffers from some intestinal trouble, usually constipation.

There is no sense in giving it a pill or a remedy containing an opiate, nor is flushing of the bowels to be always recommended. Rather give it a small dose of a mild, gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, by cleaning out the bowels and strengthening the little stomach muscles, will immediately correct the trouble.

This is not alone our opinion but that of Mrs. N. H. Mead of Freeport, Kan., whose granddaughter has been taking it successfully and of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis., who gives it to her children and takes it herself. It is sold in fifty cent and one dollar bottles at every drug store, but if you want to test it in your family before you buy it send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will forward a trial bottle free of charge.

Address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

CHINA TO BECOME A NEW REPUBLIC?

Revolutionists Have Already Selected a President.

WELL ORGANIZED AND FINANCED

Have Confiscated Banks and Treasuries and Are Issuing Their Own Money—Government Awoke to Danger of Empire.

Hankow, Oct. 13.—Behind the revolution spreading in China is a movement to overthrow the empire and declare a republic. The outbreaks of which the rising in the province of Sze-Chuen was only a small part, have begun in earnest.

The noted exiled revolutionist, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the anti-Manchu party, if the plans do not miscarry, is to be elected president. He was the delegate of the revolutionary party to the United States in 1910 and is believed on that tour to have made arrangements for financing the movement.

Sun Yu, a brother of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who is now in Hankow, has been elected president of the provincial assembly.

The whole assembly has seceded from the imperial government. The rebels are well organized and financially strong. They have confiscated the local treasuries and banks and are issuing their own paper money, redeeming the government notes with this, as foreign banks are refusing government notes.

The revolutionaries have captured Wu Chang, the native section of Hankow and Han-Yang, all adjoining cities in Hu-Peh provinces. Chang-sha, capital of Hu-Nan, is reported to have risen in revolt, and Nan-King, capital of the Province of Kiang-Su is on the verge of a rising, several public buildings having been destroyed.

Thousands of soldiers have joined the mutiny in Hu-Peh.

There has been fighting in the streets, but the most stringent orders have been issued that the lives of foreigners and their property shall be respected.

An American expedition, dispatched from Hankow to Wu Chang to aid the missionaries there has returned with all the missionaries, except Miss R. A. Kemp of the Episcopal society, members of the Roman Catholic mission, including the sisters, and the London mission, who declined to depart.

There was a brief exchange of shots between the Wu-Chang forts and a Chinese cruiser. The firing ceased after British and Japanese officials had protested that it endangered the foreign concessions.

Pekin, Oct. 13.—The Chinese government has awakened to the danger of the revolution in Hu-Peh province.

An imperial edict ordered the immediate dispatch of two divisions of troops to the provinces. About 20,000 are Manchus. It is against the Manchus that the revolutionaries have risen.

Congregational Brotherhood Meets.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The fourth national convention of the Congregational Brotherhood of America opened here in the New First Congregational church with an attendance that filled that edifice. The subject for the evening was "The Church in the Modern World," and addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Rockwell H. Potter, William E. Sweet of Colorado and Rev. Dr. A. Z. Conrad of Massachusetts; President Alfred Coit. A banquet closes the convention.

An Estate to Poor Students.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 13.—The state supreme court has upheld the will of Mrs. Anna Boodry of Bloomington, who left her estate of $30,000 for the benefit of students too poor to complete their course at the state university. Her son, who was ignored in the will, was beaten in every court when he attempted to break the will.

Macon Coroner Still Dazed.

Macon, Mo., Oct. 13.—Dr. R. Y. Powell, coroner of Macon county, still is too ill to give any explanation of the curious mishap which befell him when he became confused and lay all night on an open lot. Even his family have been unable to get any explanation from him and his condition is feared to be critical.

Black Hand to Prison.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Two kidnapers of Angelo Mareno were sentenced to life imprisonment and a third, a woman with a two-months-old baby, to seven years in the penitentiary. The conviction of the three, in the opinion of the police is the hardest blow ever struck to the organized "black hand" bands of Chicago.

Bomb for Liquor's Enemy.

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 13.—A bomb was thrown at the home of W. P. Drew, a professor of Knox college, who has been instrumental in prosecutions for illegal liquor selling here. The bomb fell on a side porch. Several windows were broken, but none of the family was injured.

J. R. WALSH NOT YET PAROLED

PAPERS RECEIVED AT PRISON DO NOT BEAR HIS NAME.

Some Cases Already Passed Upon Were Heard Later Than His—Names Not Given.

Leavenworth, Kas., Oct. 13.—A packet containing paroles for ten or twelve prisoners in the United States penitentiary has been received at the prison, but it is understood that none of them is for John R. Walsh. The names of those to be paroled have not been given out.

It is still a matter of doubt whether Walsh is to be paroled. It is declared here that Chairman Ladlow of the board of paroles voted against the ex-bankers application. This, taken with the fact that some of the men whose papers came late were heard after Walsh had been heard, leads to the belief that Walsh's application has been held up.

The cases are taken up by the parole board according to the number of the prisoner. Some of those whose numbers came have numbers higher than Walsh's, which is taken to mean that Walsh is not to be released at this time.

Twelve bankers applied for parole at the last session of the board. They are John R. Walsh, Chicago; Max P. Emmerich and C. Printz, Indianapolis; E. H. Detzer, Fort Wayne, Ind.; J. H. Phillips, Terre Haute, Ind.; F. H. Nicholai, Auburn, Ind.; Harry Ulmer, Chicago; H. T. Wells, Kenosha, Wis.; J. F. Shultz, Racine, Wis.; W. H. Tiers, Pittsburg, Pa.; G. H. Osborn, Columbus, O., and D. C. Abbott, Columbus, O.

MANY DIE IN MEXICAN STORM

Eighteen Known Dead and Many More Missing—Food Supplies Short.

Nogales, Ariz., Oct. 13.—Eighteen persons are dead as a result of the storm and tidal wave which swept the western coast of Sonora, Mexico, a week ago. Many more are missing.

Rosalia, with five thousand people, has been without water five days excepting scant supplies sent irregularly from Guaymas. Mining property suffered damage estimated at two million dollars.

Food supplies are short in and about Guaymas and Rosalia.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 13.—A special to the Herald says that the tidal wave which struck Guaymas, Sonora, washed out a causeway three kilometers long over an arm of the bay. The wave leaped a sea wall and water ran three feet deep in the streets. Trains for the south are running only as far as Hermosillo.

PLEADS JUSTICE FOR RAILROADS

President Taft Addresses Crowd of More Than Five Thousand in Portland, Oregon.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 13.—Speaking to more than five thousand persons in the Armory here President Taft made a plea for "common sense," and the exercise of ordinary justice in dealing with the railroads of the country.

"Let us treat the railroads as part of the community entitled to adequate compensation for services rendered," said the President. "Don't let us encourage attacks on the railroads just because they are railroads. There are an immense number of wage earners dependent on the railroads for support, there is a great number of shippers dependent upon them."

Young Turks Start Row.

London, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Constantinople forwarded by way of the Bulgarian frontier to avoid the Turkish censor, says the situation in the Turkish capital is grave. It is feared that when Parliament meets Saturday an open conflict will take place between the committee of union and progress and the reactionary party. The masses are greatly excited against the Young Turk committee, and the best men refuse to join the government while the committee attempts to dominate it.

Lincoln Seeks 3-Cent Fares.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 13.—A fight for three-cent fares on the street car lines of this city was begun by Attorney Frank Edgerton of the public service league in a petition to the state railway commission just filed. It is asked to set this rate for all rides of three miles or less from the center of the business district, thus practically creating a "zone" system. Six tickets are now sold in this city for a quarter.

Twenty-three Inches of Snow.

Anaconda, Mont., Oct. 13.—Twenty-three inches of snow fell here prostrating telegraph and telephone wires in all directions and putting out of commission practically all telephones in the city. The streets are nearly impassable because of deep slush and running water.

Cholera in Tripoli.

Tripoli, Oct. 13.—An epidemic of cholera threatens the Italian troops here. Four deaths from the disease have occurred in the native quarter. Soldiers are employed in establishing a better sanitary system. The medical corps is taking every precaution to protect the city from the plague.

SCHOOL MADE GOOD

ST. PATRICK'S PAID DEBTS WHEN CONTRACTORS DEFAULTED.

SUIT AGAINST SURETY CO.

Estell Griffey Sues for Divorce, Alimony and Custody of Children—Mason vs. the Wabash.

Many suits are being filed this week for the November term of circuit court, as Saturday is the last day to get service on civil and equity suits. Suits on notes, accounts and back taxes can be filed after Saturday, as only fifteen days' service is required.

A suit was brought Friday by Cook, Cummins & Dawson for the St. Patrick's Catholic school against Riggs & Ellsberry and the National Surety company. The petition states that on July 15, 1910, a contract for the building of the St. Patrick's Catholic school building was given to Cyrus Riggs and Henry Ellsberry at a price of $15,663, the contractors to pay for such material as was needed in the erection of the building. The petition alleges that the contractors failed and neglected to pay divers persons, sub-contractors and material men, and that the unpaid bills constituted a charge upon and a lien against the school building.

Following are those who were not paid by the contractors and the amounts: Phares Lumber company, $2,023.90; Andrews & Co., $166.96; Baker & Hill, $347; William Armstrong, $133; Furbach & Hurt, $90; Lincoln Bent, $750; Mark Cummins, $71.19; total, $3,528.04. The petition claims that as $2,811.75 remained on the contract price, this amount being held back until the completion of the building, was pro-rated among these sub-contractors and material men, leaving a balance of $770.19 that still remained unpaid. That this amount of $770.19 was paid by the St. Patrick's Catholic school.

Demands were made on the National Surety company for the $770.19 by reason of and on account of terms of said bonds executed by the said surety company, and that the payment was refused by that company. Suit for $7,831.50, the penalty of said bond, and that the same may be satisfied upon payment due plaintiff of the above mentioned amount, of $770.19.

Cyrus Riggs, one of the contractors, left Maryville soon after the completion of the building, and it is understood is living in Pennsylvania. It is said that he had charge of paying off these sub-contractors, and that Henry Ellsberry of this city had nothing to do with that part of the work.

Another suit filed by Cook, Cummins & Dawson was for A. O. Mason against the Wabash Railway company for being so careless and negligent in shipping two car loads of sheep for the plaintiff. Suit for $100 is asked for.

Another divorce suit for the November term. Estell Griffey is suing her husband, John Leslie Griffey. The petition states that they were married in Iowa on September 13, 1899, and lived together until October 1, 1911, and that on this date the defendant assaulted plaintiff, striking her with his clenched fists, knocking her down and breaking plaintiff's ribs, and that since that time and now she is under the care of a physician. Two children were born, one aged 11 and the other 8. The plaintiff asked for a divorce and the care and custody of the children and such alimony as the court sees fit to give to her. Cook, Cummins & Dawson are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

111 YEARS AGO YESTERDAY.

Discovery of America on This Date in the Year 1492.

Four hundred and eleven years ago yesterday the land in which we live was first discovered by a white man. October 12, 1492, Christopher Columbus took possession of the new world in the name of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella, and yesterday that event was commemorated in hundreds of places throughout the United States.

The anniversary was the occasion for a celebration by the Knights of Columbus, and in all of the great cities of the country that order was commemorating the discovery by exercises in keeping with the event.

In many states the day was a legal holiday, and so far as possible all business was suspended.

PARADE TO START AT 2

Carnival Queen, With Maids of Honor and Pages, Will Lead, While Band Makes Music.

The children's parade on Saturday afternoon is going to be just as sweet as the wedding, if the weather is good. Everything depends on the weather, because all of the children who will take part in the parade are all ready to do their best and the committee in charge, County Superintendent W. M. Oakerson, Mrs. Berney Harris, Miss Besse Scott, Mrs. M. A. Turner and Mrs. J. W. May have worked hard to make the parade pleasurable, interesting and beautiful to the street fair crowds.

Everyone who is to take part in the parade must be at the Empire theater at 1:30 o'clock, where the line will form. The parade, headed by the Maryville band, will start promptly at 2 o'clock.

Directly following the band will be the Little Carnival Queen, Marie Cloud, and her maids of honor and pages.

Then will come 100 little girls in white carrying red and white pom-poms.

The Boy Scouts will then follow as guardsmen to the Carnival Queen and her retinue.

The little maids of honor will be

MARIE CLOUD, Queen of the Children's Carnival.

Alice Peery, Ruth Bookman, Glad Bookman, Gladys Morehouse, Mae Line Strawn, Justine Fraser and Bessie Crawford.

The pages will be Clifford and R. Hull, John and George Thompson, Eugene and Ralph Yehle.

There will be fully thirty floats and vehicles, beautiful in decoration, in the parade, drawn by teams of children.

There will be a miniature wedding party; Madam Butterfly will be there in her float, also Peter-Peter-Punkin-Eater, and so many other things that we have not the time to mention now.

Suffice it to say the children's parade will be a fitting closing day for the street fair—it will be the crowning event. Little bits of folks are going to march. Some of them not over 2 years old.

Bankruptcy Asked for Becker Firm.

The following article is taken from an Oklahoma City paper and is about John H. Becker, formerly in business in Maryville, and who was a partner of W. A. Miller in the Bee Hive shoe store:

John H. Becker of Oklahoma City, trading as the John H. Becker Clothing company, is accused of making an assignment for the purpose of defeating the purpose of the bankruptcy law, in that certain creditors are preferred. A petition that Becker be declared a bankrupt was filed at Guthrie Monday by the C. M. Haddon Co. of Baltimore and several other clothing firms, declaring that Robert Holtschue was made assignee and that some creditors were assigned property to the prejudice of others, and that the assignment was with the purpose of hindering and defrauding the creditors represented in the bankruptcy petition.

MANAGER STREET HERE.

Was in Conference With Public Works Board This Afternoon.

E. L. Street, general manager of the city water company, arrived in Maryville Friday noon from New York City. Mr. Street met this afternoon with the board of public works and some matters as to the work of the engineers were gone over.

Mr. Street, with the two engineers hired by the board of public works—Hiram Phillips and Burns & McDonald—will go over the water plant and it will probably take several days' time. However, a report of the findings of the engineers will be submitted probably in November, and at that time the board will be in better position to make definite plans for the future.

FAIR RAINED OUT

HEAVY DOWNPOUR LAST NIGHT KEPT PEOPLE AT HOME.

LARGE CROWD HERE TODAY

Fraternal Parade Tonight Expected to Be Big Feature—Record Breaking Crowd Expected Saturday.

This Evening's Program.

Guards of attorneys presented a busy scene notwithstanding the official report and it was apparent that both sides have not yet made ready for the more important days of the trial, when the testimony of witnesses will be received.

In the county jail, besides James B. McNamara and his brother, John McNamara, indicted with him and waiting a separate trial are the 12 men who temporarily were drafted into the jury box for preliminary examination when court adjourned. Though it had been expected that the process of getting a jury would constitute a perfunctory and monotonous chapter in the trial, likely to drag through many weeks, the situation, as a result of questioning of veniremen, has changed somewhat and it now is believed that many a clash will ensue between counsel over the question of competency of talesmen who have formed opinions concerning warfare between capital and union labor.

FEDERAL AID FOR GOOD ROADS

At a Convention in Hobart, Ok., Senator Owen Said Government Should Help.

Hobart, Ok., Oct. 13.—Several hundred delegates from 11 counties are in convention here and arrangements are to be perfected to link every one of the centers with a good road along the lines laid down by Sidney Suggs, state highway commissioner. Clinton, Correll, Snyder, Frederick, Mangum, places of country are the topics of discussion.

Friday a large crowd is in the city. The sun was shining brightly at times and everyone was wishing for good clear weather the rest of the week.

The fraternal parade this evening at 7:30 is to be the special feature of the day's program. The parade will start at the Empire theater, and the Elks, Woodmen, Odd Fellows and the Elks lodges will participate in the parade.

All of the free attractions were given today.

Saturday, the closing day of the fair, will be the banner day. Many special features are to be given, and if the weather is clear a record breaking crowd will be in the city.

WEDDING PLEASED HIM.

Harry Bollinger Thanks Merchants for Presents.

I desire to thank the people of Maryville for their kind and cordial treatment and for their gifts, which were many, beautiful and useful, and for the many kind wishes for myself and bride. The committee for the street fair wedding was especially courteous and kind, and I shall always have the kindest feelings for the merchants and people of Maryville.

HARRY W. BOLLINGER.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Peery of Albany were the street fair wedding guests of Mr. Peery's brother, M. A. Peery, and family.

Mrs. L. V. Lawler of Albany, who has been the guest of Mrs. J. B. Robinson, returned home Friday.

GABE DEAN DROWNS

QUITMAN MAN WENT DOWN WITH WAGON IN STREAM.

BROTHER CAUGHT ON TREE

Returning Wagon After Coming to Street Fair—Team Was Also Drowned.

Gabe Dean, who lives in a tenant house of J. S. Carden farm, three miles southeast of Quitman, was drowned Thursday night in Sand creek, while attempting to cross the bridge over that stream with a team and wagon. On account of the heavy rain or cloudburst over in the Quitman vicinity Thursday night, all of the creeks were over bank full, and badly swollen. His brother, Joseph Dean, was with him in the wagon and he was caught on a tree near the bridge and was rescued two and a half hours later.

Gabe Dean and his family and Joseph Dean and his family came to Maryville Thursday in a wagon belonging to J. S. Carden, to attend the street fair. They started for their homes Thursday evening, reaching Gabe Dean's house, on the Carden place, a short time after the rain was over. They left their families there and the two men undertook to take the team and wagon back to the Carden place. It was reported that the water was up to the Dean house at this time, and the two men attempted to cross the creek with the team and wagon to see if it was safe enough to take their families over to a neighboring house.

On attempting to cross the bridge the current caught the wagon, causing it to go in the badly swollen stream with the team of horses, and Gabe Dean was carried down with the wagon, while Joseph Dean caught hold of a tree and held on until rescued. The team of horses drowned.

The body of the drowned man was recovered Friday morning. He leaves a wife and a family of four children, the oldest child being 18 years old and the youngest a baby of 8 months. His parents live in Gentry county. Mr. Dean was about 40 years old and was a workman on the Carden place.

BRIDGES WASHED OUT.

Rain amounting to 1.17 inches fell in Maryville Thursday evening. A heavy rain was had around Quitman and Burlington Junction, while over the rest of the county probably over an inch or so was had. The rain was accompanied by an electrical storm.

On the Burlington railroad, in the west part of the county, a mile of track between Quitman and Skidmore was washed out, and about 300 feet of track was washed out near Burlington Junction. The trains today on that branch are running only to Skidmore from the south, and to Burlington Junction from the north.

A large number of culverts and bridges were also washed out in the west part of the county. A bridge on the Burlington between Skidmore and Quitman was washed out.

County Highway Engineer Reece received word Friday morning from the bridge gang that has been putting in a bridge near Hopkins that their tent was carried away, and that about thirty yards of sand was washed away. Also the tool box had been washed away. The bridge gang was staying on the William Alexander place, three miles south of Hopkins.

Misses Lena and Vesta Andrews of Tarkio arrived Friday to be street fair guests of Miss Ethel Abbott, a State Normal student, who makes her home with Mrs. L. D. Cook, 208 West Sixth street.

Mrs. Alex Fraser and son, Walter Fraser, of near Orrsburg, returned Friday from Omaha, where they attended the Ak-Sar-Ben festival and visited Mrs. Fraser's sister, Mrs. H. Hamilton.

Remember Robinson's sale of mammoth Poland-China hogs tomorrow afternoon.

THE FARMER BOSS OF ALL.

One week of strike of two hundred thousand steamship and railway men in England endangered the food supplies of forty millions of people, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. It brought to the attention of the world the dependence of the British people upon foreign sources for their daily sustenance. It has been known for years that a month of complete cessation of importation of food supplies to Britain would reduce the masses of the people to a state of starvation. Under these circumstances their stores of reserve provisions can only be classed as exceedingly limited.

The daily riots in France upon the account of the high prices of articles of food point precisely to the same state of affairs there. If there were reserves of food in the homes of the people there would be no struggles for bread in the markets or the shops, and it is thus made evident that despite the recognized frugality of the people of France pressing want is in many of the households of that republic. From many cities of the German empire petitions are being forwarded to the government asking that all taxes upon food products be suspended until the prices of food have lowered, and in the fatherland we have again the same evidence of want of reserves of food in the homes that we have shown in Great Britain and in France.

We have taken the three favored and most prosperous nations of Europe, and the above is their status as to food supplies as exhibited within their boundaries within the past month. We pass by Spain, Italy, Austria and Russia, for the struggle for daily existence of the masses of the people is known to the whole world. What a market for the products of the soil Europe affords. What a certain profit to the producer of food, the farmer, does the world-wide demand for his products guarantee!

The banker may close his safes and hoard his cash from all calls save that of hunger. He cannot do without the farmer. The sailor must provision his craft if he leaves the coast but a day. He is anchored until provided for by the cultivator of the soil. The swiftest trains would be abandoned by their passengers if not supplied by the producers who till the land.

Neither capitalists nor labor unions would be arrayed against each other for one hundred hours if the farmers would strike and refuse their food. The cultivator of the soil is pre-eminently the master of the situation in the world today, and the prices of fertile acres of land will continue to increase until the production of food supplies fully equals the demand. That is not likely to occur for decades, and the farmer will be in the saddle or the automobile for many years to come.

HARRY TURNER IS DEAD.

Member of Chicago Live Stock Firm Was Formerly Maryville Man.

News of the death of Harry M. Turner of Chicago Thursday night by A. T. Stephenson, who is an uncle of Mrs. Turner, and Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Shoemaker, intimate friends of the Turners. The news of Mr. Turner's death was quite a shock to Maryville relatives and friends, as no news of his illness had reached them.

The telegram was from Mrs. Turner, and stated that the body would be brought to Maryville for burial. A later telegram will announce the time of arrival.

Mr. Turner was a member of the live stock commission firm of McCausland-Hoag-Turner of Chicago, where he had been for many years. Mrs. Turner is a daughter of the late Edward Stephenson of this city, and was Miss Mary Stephenson. She has a sister, Mrs. John M. Holt of Miles City, Mont., who is expected to arrive in Maryville for the burial services. Another sister, Mrs. Joseph Craig of San Diego, Cal., died several years ago.

It is thought that Mr. Turner's death came suddenly, as he had completely recovered from his severe illness of a year ago.

ARE OFFERING PRIZES.

Rural Schools Are to Give Prizes in the Spelling Contest.

Quite an interest is being taken in the spelling contest that is to be held soon under the direction of County Superintendent Oakerson. Local prizes are being offered by some of the rural school districts. The Morgan school district, in Hughes township, has offered three prizes of $1 each to the three who are selected from that district for the township spelling contest. Then if the three, or any one of them, are successful in the township contest a prize of $1 each will be given. If the one from that district wins in the county contest a prize of $5 is offered.

Two Big Fruit Shows.

The Missouri State board of horticulture of Columbia announces that two big fruit shows are to be held this fall and winter in Missouri. The first will be at Hannibal, Nov. 15th, and will last two or three days. Two hundred dollars in cash prizes will be offered for fruit to be shown.

At Columbia, January 9-12, 1912, on the occasion of the fifty-fourth annual meeting of the State Horticultural society, there will be a still greater fruit show, at which about three hundred dollars will be offered in such prizes. Premium lists are now being sent out by Secretary Howard. Fruit should be selected at once and sent by express to the board of horticulture, care of A. J. Stillwell Cold Storage Co., Hannibal, Mo. It will be kept free of charge and exhibited at both places. At both Hannibal and Columbia attractive programs will be rendered. Many persons prominent in the fruit business of the state will read papers and take part in the discussions. These are good opportunities for beginners in fruit growing to acquire a lot of valuable information from experts.

DID MOSES MAKE MISTAKE?

We have often heard "the mistakes of Moses" in the first chapter of Genesis commented upon, but what especially strikes us in that chapter is not its contraventions of science, but its harmonies with late discoveries. How did the writer, many centuries before the story of the rocks had been deciphered, know that there was a beginning and then a pause before life appeared on the earth? Who taught the writer that the earth was "without form and void" before it was divided into continents? How came it that the long delayed, slow emergence of land should be set forth as it is? Was it mere guesswork that prompted the writer to say grasses were created before animals, and not for animals already existent? Is it a happy accident that life in the water appears before life upon the land? And ages before the scientist dreamed of paleontology we find man last in the series just as he appears today by his remains in the drift instead of in the stratified rocks? Further investigation may explain discrepancies, but what except inspiration can account for these coincidences?—The Advance.

"That boy will be the death of me some day!" declared the head of the family. "I'm sure I don't know where he gets all his impudence and self-assurance—surely not from me. He returned home from school the other day to spend the holidays, as I supposed, and, entering my office, he threw his hat on the floor, selected an easy-chair, put his feet on my desk, lit a cigarette, inhaled a few puffs, and then, turning languidly to me, he drawled:

"I say, dad, do you remember the time when you were expelled from school?"

"I did. There was no use denying it, for one day in a burst of confidence I had told him some of my escapades as a boy, and lived to regret that I had been so indiscreet.

"Well," said he, "history has repeated itself."

"What do you mean, you rascal?" I roared.

"Oh," said he, easily, "I've been expelled, too. Astonishing, isn't it, dad, how such things will run in a family?"

Banks Guarded by Soldiers.

Like the Bank of England, the Bank of France is now guarded every night by soldiers, who do sentry duty outside the building, a watch being likewise kept inside its precincts. But within quite recent time the officials at the French bank resorted to a very novel method of protecting their bulion. This consisted in engaging masons to wall up the doors of the vaults in the cellar with hydraulic mortar as soon as the money was deposited each day in these receptacles. The water was then turned on and kept running until the whole cellar was flooded. A burglar would be obliged to work in a diving suit and break down a cement wall before he could even begin to plunder the vaults. When the bank officials arrived next morning the water was drawn off, the masonry torn down and the vaults opened. Curiously enough, within a few months after this obsolete manner of protecting the bank's cash was done away with, burglars did actually get into the vaults and decamp with about $45,000 in gold coin.—Strand Magazine.

How Tourists Economize.

A comedy of economy is reported from St. Moritz. A stout couple, accompanied by a son and daughter who were also "thick," as the Germans translate stout, entered a crowded hotel at the busy time of lunch and ordered one lunch at table d'hôte. The father sat down and finished two helpings of soup and all the bread near him and left the table, his place being taken for the entrees by his wife, who had been waiting with her children in the hotel corridor until her husband appeared.

The young man then took his mother's place to attack the joint, and he was followed by his sister for the sweets, all doing justice to the menu. In the crowd the tourists did not notice the unusual lunch, but the head waiter did, and when asked for the bill presented one for four lunches. The paterfamilias grumbled a good deal—and paid!

Swiss English.

Swiss English always seems designed to round off the scenery with the touch of humor. For years the best in the writer's collection has been an inscription by a path leading to a waterfall near Meiringen, which explained that a toll was necessary for "the fondation and untainting" of that path. Until last month, however, there was nothing quite equal to the Strasburg cathedral notice: "Express interdiction to circulate during divine service. Beadle have to preserve order." But Switzerland has at least tied with Germany now in the collection. In a certain Oberland valley, too unspoiled yet to be given away by name, there is a series of gates which bear a short request in Oberland German to the wayfarer to close them. And twice it is translated into English "Shut up!"—London Chronicle.

YOUNG UNTIL THIRTY-FIVE

When does a woman cease to be young? Woman herself, for reasons that require no elaboration here, declines, as a rule, to fix the period. Masculine authorities, for the most part, are chary of venturing upon such dangerous ground. Hence the question has ever been involved in uncertainty and it would perhaps remain so were it not that a responsible authority—none other than the Young Woman's Christian association, the title of which indicates its competency—comes to the front with a decision which may fairly be accepted as conclusive. It is to the Boston branch of the association that the world is indebted for the solution of the problem. The occasion for solving it arose from the completion of a new home for the young women of the association in the Massachusetts city. In framing rules for this establishment, it was found necessary to specify precisely the limit of young womanhood, beyond which the benefits of the home could not be enjoyed. This has been fixed at 35 years. Up to that age a young woman comes within the meaning of the title as understood by the association and may enjoy the advantages of membership and residence in the home. On reaching her thirty-fifth birthday she must resign her quarters. On that fatal day her young womanhood ceases and the "old maid" label is placed upon her indelibly and irrevocably. Thus the matter is settled beyond further cavil or dispute.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

TO RELIEVE THE HICCOUGHS

Simple cases of hiccough are often relieved by such measures as sucking ice or taking salt and vinegar. Pulling the tongue forward and holding it for some time is an effective procedure.

Sometimes obstinate hiccough is relieved when the patient is strong by having him hang with the arms extended and grasping some beam or pole, so that his feet do not touch the floor. With all the abdominal muscles tense, have him hold his breath as long as possible.

The spelling "hiccough" is recent, being a combination of the syllables "hic" and the latter term of "cough," which is without either physiological or etymological basis; the pronunciation, with perhaps the rarest exception, is still that of the older form "hiccup," earlier given variously—as "hiccup," "hiccupnickup," "hiccup," "hiccock," "hiccock" and "hickett," with quasi diminishing suffixes ack, etc.; but the "hick," a syllable aptly expressive of the spasmodic sound produced by the conditions giving rise to the particular disturbance, is found in all references to the origin of the term which the writer has been able to obtain. The term singultus is rarely used.—New York Medical Journal.

Curing Forgetfulness.

I used to be very forgetful, and could not remember half the time where I had put things around the house, says a writer in Harper's Bazar. Finally I hit on this scheme.

I live in the upper flat of a two-family house, and there are just eight rooms in our flat. I got a big white sheet of paper, and wrote on it the names of the eight rooms, and beside the name of each room I wrote the name of a certain place in that room. I decided that every time I put anything out of my hands for a minute I would put it in the place beside the name of that room on the paper.

The paper I tacked up in a conspicuous place in my own room. By using this system I always knew just where to look for things, and after a little while I got so in the habit of putting things in certain places and of remembering where I put them that I no longer needed the paper.

Lifting Fire Hose by Elevators.

The latest idea for raising water for fire-extinguishing purposes to the uppermost floors of tall buildings is to lift the hose by means of the passenger or freight elevators. A simple attachment is provided for affixing the hose to the floor of the elevator, the pipe being coiled up in the bottom of the shaft so as to be easily raised.

In a recent demonstration at Memphis, Tenn., says Popular Mechanics, it was said that the water arrived at the sixth floor of a building practically as soon as the floor was reached by the elevator, and the fire chief of that city recommended the compulsory adoption of the device by all buildings provided with elevators. The hose is inserted in the attachment about two sections behind the discharge nozzle, these sections being coiled on the elevator floor.

The Broken Heart.

"The party that recover from this check," said Mayor Craig of Covington, apropos of a temporary setback. "They say the party will be broken. I'd reply that it will be about as much broken as young Lansing's heart."

"A chorus girl who had refused young Lansing said to a friend: 'I have broken his heart, I fear.'"

"You have. You certainly have," the friend replied, "You've broken it right in half."

"In half? What do you mean?"

"I mean that he takes two girls out to supper every night now."

WHY HE USED THE BAD WORD

Little Matt Explained That the Two Pigs He Was Driving Got His Goat.

Matt Perkins, engine driver on the New York Central, thought his little farm, out near Peekskill, wouldn't be complete without pigs. So he bought a couple and had them sent out, much to the dismay of Willie, his oldest boy, who tearfully protested that the family would be disgraced if their acquaintances found they kept pigs.

But the father was obdurate, and assigned to Matt, Jr., his six-year-old and youngest hopeful, the task of caring for the pigs. This has proved a hard task, and Little Matt has been having his troubles during the hot weather.

One day the pigs, being pigs, roamed far afield. Mattie, rounding them up, drove them past the veranda, where his mother happened to be. Mattie was talking to the pigs in no uncertain terms, and it must be confessed he used a word which he really should not. Where he got it no one knows.

The mother promptly called him to task, and Mattie, having panned in the pigs, returned, hot and red of face, to the veranda.

"Mattie," said his mother, sternly, "I shall have to punish you. I heard you say a naughty word."

"Well, I guess I did," was the lad's penitent rejoinder, "but you see, mamma, them pigs jest got my goat."

WHY THEIR PARENTS DIED

Applicants for Life Insurance Give Some Astonishing Information in Filling Out Blanks.

Naturally applicants for life insurance may be expected to put as good a face as possible on the reports concerning relatives and the causes of their deaths, but they sometimes make rather amusing statements. Some one has collected a few of these which were originally published in the British Medical Journal:

"Mother died in infancy." "Father went to bed feeling well and the next morning woke up dead." "Grandfather died suddenly at the age of one hundred and three. Up to this time he had fair to reach a ripe old age." "Applicant does not know cause of mother's death, but states that she fully recovered from her last illness."

"Applicant has never been fatally sick." "Applicant's brother, who was an infant, died when he was a mere child." "Grandfather died from gun shot wound caused by an arrow shot by an Indian." "Applicant's fraternal parents died when he was a child."

"Mother's last illness was caused from chronic rheumatism, but she was cured before death." "Father died suddenly; nothing serious."—Journal of the American Medical Association

June Bug Causes Alarm.

F. M. Clements of Kansas City, a traveling representative of a fire alarm telegraph company, has had many amusing experiences in the fire fighting business. He vouches for the truth of his anecdotes.

"A June bug, one of the lightning variety, caused a general alarm of fire to be turned in in Washington, D. C., several years ago, and caused the wildest excitement throughout the city," he said. "The alarm was turned in from one of the government buildings—the army building, I think.

"The June bug had been buzzing about an office in which there was a very nervous clerk. The clerk went after the poor little bug with a broom. He held the brush end of the broom in his hand and struck at the bug with the stick. He became so excited he did not know he had hit off the automatic general alarm until fire wagons bore down upon the building from all directions and a crowd of thousands had gathered."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

EFFICIENCY.

How Many Men Know How to Keep It Par.

Thousands; yes tens of thousands of men, grow old ten years too soon.

If you are a man and realize that your efficiency is on the wane and that you are losing money and happiness in consequence, get a 50-cent box of Mi-o-ni stomach tablets today and take two after or with each meal for three days; then take one with each meal regularly until you feel well and vigorous.

Mi-o-ni stomach tablets disinfect, tone up, restore elasticity to the stomach and intestinal canal and end indigestion. They do more; they increase the nutrition of the body, and in case of nerve exhaustion, sleeplessness, night sweats, bad dreams or any condition that requires a restorative, they act with astonishing rapidity. They can be found at the Orear-Henry Drug Co. and helpful druggists the world over.

THE QUIET YOUNG MAN

Greatly Differs From One Who Blatantly Shouts Sentiments.

The man who blatantly shouts his sentiments—generally without much regard to those of others—and the quiet one who, when occasion demands, has the courage of his convictions, are two persons belonging in widely different categories of character. A contributor to the Atlantic Monthly, writing of "The Country Minister," tells the following little story—not lacking in dramatic coloring:

The other day, in a slow moving freight train, hours behind time, dragging its rumbling length over a branch railway, the passengers gathered at the end of the ill-smelling coach and talked as friends in discomfort.

Somehow the conversation turned to religious affairs, and a cattleman delivered some ponderous remarks concerning Bible history, highly colored with disbelief. After he had held the floor for some time, a quiet young man asked, as if for information:

"My friend, can you read Hebrew?"

"No, I never studied things like that," admitted the cattleman.

"How about Latin and Greek?"

"Never went to college," was the grudging answer.

"Have you read Plutarch or Herodotus in translation?"

"N-no."

"Well, I have studied the Scriptures in three languages, and have spent years on ancient history. It seems to me that you ought to learn something before you presume to criticize."

Then he gave the little audience a straightforward talk on the Word, taking up every assertion of the unbeliever's argument and disposing of it. At the end, the passengers applauded, and the cattleman was heard no more.

The quiet young man was pastor of a little church in a prairie village, but he dwelt there in an atmosphere of study and militant religious effort.

So the Fish Won't Leak.

The late Professor Corson of Cornell, said a Cornell instructor, "had little sympathy with the freakish philologists of the modern school.

"I once quoted to Professor Corson an extremely interesting and odd analogy that had just been suggested for a Celtic word. He smiled, and said that the analogy was about as probable as that which linked fish scales to shingles.

A little girl, he explained, once asked her mother:

"Are scales fastened on fish like shingles on a roof?"

"Yes, dear," the mother answered.

"They're put on that way, of course," said the little girl, "to keep the fish from leaking."—New York Tribune.

New York's Well Defended.

Foreign Enemy—Then you think it is useless for us to attack the country by way of New York?

Assistant—Certainly. Our investigations tell us that it is impossible. First we would have to pass a trained army of customs inspectors, then a squad of quarantine officials, and what was left of us would be swept away by a picked delegation of reporters asking us how we liked the country.—Puck.

HADLEY HELPED STOP DISPUTE

TRANSPORTATION WAS HIS TOPIC

When Storm of Personal Questions Arose, Missouri's Governor Was Introduced and Disturbers Called to Order.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 13.—Discussions which gave promise of development into political controversy were smothered quickly at the opening session of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway association, which was attended by more than 1,000 delegates.

Following an address by Isham Randolph, an engineer of the sanitary district, on the "Drainage Canal," several members of the convention not in harmony with the views of Mr. Randolph, who favors Gov. C. S. Deneen's policy regarding the waterways, began a storm of questions relating to the governor's policy. They promptly were called to order by President William K. Kavanaugh, in accordance with his promise made a few minutes before in his opening address.

Gov. Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri was introduced before further discussion could arise. More incidents of this character are expected but President Kavanaugh insists political controversies will be crushed out of the convention, should an attempt be made to inject them into the discussions.

"The question of transportation determines the character of the poor man's breakfast and the rich man's home," said Gov. Hadley. "One-third of the cost of living is due to the expense of transportation. And thus, this question enters as a controlling influence into the success or failure of every single human life.

"And those who have the power, and by virtue of the power, exercise the privileges of controlling and conducting the means of transportation, have the power and exercise the privilege of levying tribute upon the labor and the frugality of the people whom they serve. And experience has shown that this power cannot be safely left to any man or set of men free from the regulation of competition or the superior power of governmental control.

"The necessity of the improvement of our inland waterways for the purposes of transportation is not only necessary and advisable from the standpoint of effective rate regulation, but its necessity has been frequently demonstrated for the purpose of securing the means by which freight can be transported at all.

"The duty of improving the waterways belongs alone to the national government. Water transportation means land reclamation. If the government would perform the duty incident to the exclusive right it possesses of improving the rivers for the purpose of transportation much, if not all of 20,000,000 acres of land, now swamps or impaired by overflows, could be made available for the production of certain annual harvest."

UNION CAR WORKERS QUIT WORK

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Two hundred members of the International Car Workers association quit work at the Burnside shops of the Illinois Central railroad because they were asked to work with strikebreakers. The car workers' union is not affiliated with the system federation and the members of the car workers' union did not join the strikers. But they warned the railroad officials that they would not work with non-union men. When strikebreakers were brought into their department the union car workers picked up their tools and walked out of the shops.

Stucky's Bond Worthless.

Topeka, Oct. 13.—W. M. Stucky, the Williamsburg preacher who ran away with Lorena Sutherland, not only has evaded punishment but his bondsmen have been absolved of liability for his disappearance. His appeal bond was signed by Ottawa men, and when efforts were made to collect on it for $2,000 the district court held that it was worthless because of technical errors.

Held Synod on a Train.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 13.—Covering three counties, a single session of the Missouri Presbyterian Synod, began on a special train out of Springfield and continued through Greene, Stone and Taney counties to Hollister, Mo. There a session and a dinner was held.

New Postoffice for Warrsburg. Warrsburg, Mo., Oct. 13.—The corner stone of the new government building in this city was laid under the auspices of the local Masonic lodge. The principal address was made by F. A. Leach of Kansas City. The building will cost $75,000.

GRAND JURY IN SESSION A YEAR

McNamara Inquiry Occupied Almost Entire Time.

LONGEST SERVICE EVER KNOWN

Has Just Made Final Report and Been Discharged—Selection of Trial Jury to be Hard Battle Between Counsel.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 13.—After serving ten days less than a year the grand jury which indicted John J. McNamara, his brother, James B. McNamara, and six others for murder in connection with the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times building has made its final report and been discharged. Officials here were unable to find record of any grand jury which had served so long a time.

The jury was empaneled by Judge Walter Bordwell October 22, 1910. Three days later it concentrated its attention upon the Times explosion case, to the exclusion of everything else. The first fruits of its labors were the secret indictments January 8 against "James B. Bryce" and two others. March 14 the same jury found that victims of the Times disaster met death in wreck and fire caused by a dynamite explosion, and April 15 it returned the indictments against the two McNamaras and against Orville McManigal, who later signed a formal statement concerning his knowledge of the case.

Since returning those indictments the grand jury has found little time to take into consideration other matters, and has returned from time to time to consideration of the case to investigate which it was gathered.

The extensive offices of the two squads of attorneys presented a busy scene notwithstanding the official respite and it was apparent that both sides have not yet made ready for the more important days of the trial, when the testimony of witnesses will be received.

In the county jail, besides James B. McNamara and his brother, John J. McNamara, indicted with him and awaiting a separate trial are the 12 veniremen who temporarily were drafted into the jury box for preliminary examination when court adjourned. Though it had been expected that the process of getting a jury would constitute a perfunctory and monotonous chapter in the trial, likely to drag through many weeks, the situation, as a result of questioning of veniremen, has changed somewhat and it now is believed that many a clash will ensue between counsel over the question of competency of talesmen who have formed opinions concerning warfare between capital and union labor.

FEDERAL AID FOR GOOD ROADS

At a Convention in Hobart, Ok., Senator Owen Said Government Should Help.

Hobart, Ok., Oct. 13.—Several hundred delegates from 11 counties are in convention here and arrangements are to be perfected to link every one of the centers with a good road along the lines laid down by Sidney Suggs, state highway commissioner. Clinton, Correll, Snyder, Frederick, Mangum, Anadarko, Chickasha, Mountain Park, Lone Wolf, Bessie, Rocky, Roosevelt, Coal Springs, Granite, Mountain View and many other small towns are represented.

Senator Owen urged the carrying out of the plans outlined and dwelt on the economy and social benefits from the building of good roads. He placed himself unequivocally on record for national aid and said that the spending of money on battle ships and preparing for war would be better directed if placed on the highways of the nation.

Pupils Drank Bad Water.

Independence, Mo., Oct. 13.—Fourteen cases of typhoid fever having developed among the high school pupils of Greenwood, Dr. J. W. Greene, secretary of the board of health, went there to conduct an investigation and learned that all had been using water out of the well in the high school yard. The well was ordered closed and Dr. Greene is having an examination made of the water.

Three Deaths From Ptomaine.

Lawton, Ok., Oct. 13.—The second and third death in the family of S. W. McAlexander from ptomaine poisoning, caused by eating infected sardines, occurred when Nancy and Ethel, daughters, died. The wife died a few days ago in Montague, Tex.

Would Keep Gas Home.

Pawhuska, Ok., Oct. 13.—The committee appointed by the Osage Indian mass meeting last June recommended leasing of all Osage lands for the remainder of the reservation time, about 21 years. It urges that all gas found be retained in Osage county to induce the location of factories.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't look old before your time. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what an improvement it will make in the appearance of your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agents, Koch Pharmacy.

IF YOU HAVE A SICKLY YOUNGSTER TRY THIS FREE

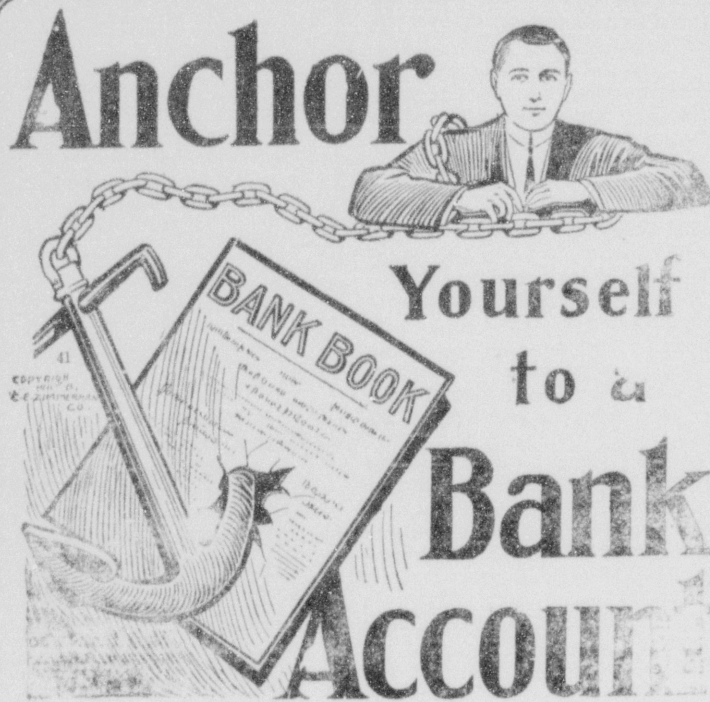

The family with young children that is without sickness in the house now and then is rare, and so it is important that the head of the house should know what to do in the little emergencies that arise. A child with a serious ailment needs a doctor, it is true, but in the majority of instances, as any doctor knows, the child suffers from some intestinal trouble, usually constipation.

There is no sense in giving it a pill or a remedy containing an opiate, nor is flushing of the bowels to be always recommended. Rather give it a small dose of a mild, gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, by cleaning out the bowels and strengthening the little stomach muscles, will immediately correct the trouble.

This is not alone our opinion but that of Mrs. N. H. Mead of Freeport, Kan., whose granddaughter has been taking it successfully and of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis., who gives it to her children and takes it herself. It is sold in fifty cent and one dollar bottles at every drug store, but if you want to test it in your family before you buy it send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will forward a trial bottle free of charge.

Address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

A STEADY purpose in this life is one of the best aids to success. If that purpose be the resolve to save money your success will be sure and satisfactory.

A young man should anchor himself to a bank account as the first step to success. As his account grows so will HIS CONFIDENCE IN HIMSELF TO MAKE GOOD.

CHINA TO BECOME A NEW REPUBLIC?

Revolutionists Have Already Selected a President.

WELL ORGANIZED AND FINANCED

Have Confiscated Banks and Treasuries and Are Issuing Their Own Money—Government Awake to Danger of Empire.

Hankow, Oct. 13.—Behind the revolution spreading in China is a movement to overthrow the empire and declare a republic. The outbreaks of which the rising in the province of Sze-Chuen was only a small part, have begun in earnest.

The noted exiled revolutionist, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the anti-Manchu party, if the plans do not miscarry, is to be elected president. He was the delegate of the revolutionary party to the United States in 1910 and is believed on that tour to have made arrangements for financing the movement.

Sun Yu, a brother of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who is now in Hankow, has been elected president of the provincial assembly.

The whole assembly has seceded from the imperial government. The rebels are well organized and financially strong. They have confiscated the local treasuries and banks and are issuing their own paper money, redeeming the government notes with this, as foreign banks are refusing government notes.

The revolutionaries have captured Wu Chang, the native son of Hankow and Han-Yang, all adjoining cities in Hu-Peh provinces. Chang-sha, capital of Hu-Nan, is reported to have risen in revolt, and Nan-King, capital of the Province of Kiang-Su is on the verge of a rising, several public buildings having been destroyed.

Thousands of soldiers have joined the mutiny in Hu-Peh.

There has been fighting in the streets, but the most stringent orders have been issued that the lives of foreigners and their property shall be respected.

An American expedition, dispatched from Hankow to Wu Chang to aid the missionaries there has returned with all the missionaries, except Miss R. A. Kemp of the Episcopal society, members of the Roman Catholic mission, including the sisters, and the London mission, who declined to depart.

There was a brief exchange of shots between the Wu-Chang forts and a Chinese cruiser. The firing ceased after British and Japanese officials had protested that it endangered the foreign concessions.

Pekin, Oct. 13.—The Chinese government has awakened to the danger of the revolution in Hu-Peh province.

An imperial edict ordered the immediate dispatch of two divisions of troops to the provinces. About 20,000 are Manchus. It is against the Manchus that the revolutionaries have risen.

Congregational Brotherhood Meets.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The fourth national convention of the Congregational Brotherhood of America opened here in the New First Congregational church with an attendance that filled that edifice. The subject for the evening was "The Church in the Modern World," and addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Rockwell H. Potter, William E. Sweet of Colorado and Rev. Dr. A. Z. Conrad of Massachusetts; President Alfred Coit. A banquet closes the convention.

An Estate to Poor Students.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 13.—The state supreme court has upheld the will of Mrs. Anna Boodry of Bloomington, who left her estate of $30,000 for the benefit of students too poor to complete their course at the state university. Her son, who was ignored in the will, was beaten in every court when he attempted to break the will.

Macon Coroner Still Dazed.

Macon, Mo., Oct. 13.—Dr. R. Y. Powell, coroner of Macon county, still is too ill to give any explanation of the curious mishap which befell him when he became confused and lay all night on an open lot. Even his family have been unable to get any explanation from him and his condition is feared to be critical.

Black Hand to Prison.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Two kidnapers of Angelo Mareno were sentenced to life imprisonment and a third, a woman with a two-months-old baby, to seven years in the penitentiary. The conviction of the three, in the opinion of the police is the hardest blow ever struck to the organized "black hand" bands of Chicago.

Bomb for Liquor's Enemy.

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 13.—A bomb was thrown at the home of W. P. Drew, a professor of Knox college, who has been instrumental in prosecutions for illegal liquor selling here. The bomb fell on a side porch. Several windows were broken, but none of the family was injured.

J. R. WALSH NOT YET PAROLED

PAPERS RECEIVED AT PRISON DO NOT BEAR HIS NAME.

Some Cases Already Passed Upon Were Heard Later Than His—Names Not Given.

Leavenworth, Kas., Oct. 13.—A packet containing paroles for ten or twelve prisoners in the United States penitentiary has been received at the prison, but it is understood that none of them is for John R. Walsh. The names of those to be paroled have not been given out.

It is still a matter of doubt whether Walsh is to be paroled. It is declared here that Chairman Ladow of the board of paroles voted against the ex-bankers application. This, taken with the fact that some of the men whose papers came late were heard after Walsh had been heard, leads to the belief that Walsh's application has been held up.

The cases are taken up by the parole board according to the number of the prisoner. Some of those whose numbers came have numbers higher than Walsh's, which is taken to mean that Walsh is not to be released at this time.

Twelve bankers applied for parole at the last session of the board. They are John R. Walsh, Chicago; Max P. Emmerich and C. Printzler, Indianapolis; E. H. Detzer, Fort Wayne, Ind.; J. H. Phillips, Terre Haute, Ind.; F. H. Nicholas, Auburn, Ind.; Harry Ulmer, Chicago; H. T. Wells, Kenosha, Wis.; J. F. Shultz, Racine, Wis.; W. H. Tiers, Pittsburg, Pa.; G. H. Osborn, Columbus, O., and D. C. Abbott, Columbus, O.

MANY DIE IN MEXICAN STORM

Eighteen Known Dead and Many More Missing—Food Supplies Short.

Nogales, Ariz., Oct. 13.—Eighteen persons are dead as a result of the storm and tidal wave which swept the western coast of Sonora, Mexico, a week ago. Many more are missing.

Rosalia, with five thousand people, has been without water five days excepting scant supplies sent irregularly from Guaymas. Mining property suffered damage estimated at two million dollars.

Food supplies are short in and about Guaymas and Rosalia.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 13.—A special to the Herald says that the tidal wave which struck Guaymas, Sonora, washed out a causeway three kilometers long over an arm of the bay. The wave leaped a sea wall and water ran three feet deep in the streets. Trains for the south are running only as far as Hermosillo.

PLEADS JUSTICE FOR RAILROADS

President Taft Addresses Crowd of More Than Five Thousand in Portland, Oregon.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 13.—Speaking to more than five thousand persons in the Armory here President Taft made a plea for "common sense," and the exercise of ordinary justice in dealing with the railroads of the country.

"Let us treat the railroads as part of the community entitled to adequate compensation for services rendered," said the President. "Don't let us encourage attacks on the railroads just because they are railroads. There are an immense number of wage earners dependent on the railroads for support, there is a great number of shippers dependent upon them."

Young Turks Start Row.

London, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Constantinople forwarded by way of the Bulgarian frontier to avoid the Turkish censor, says the situation in the Turkish capital is grave. It is feared that when Parliament meets Saturday an open conflict will take place between the committee of union and progress and the reactionary party. The masses are greatly excited against the Young Turk committee, and the best men refuse to join the government while the committee attempts to dominate it.

Lincoln Seeks 3-Cent Fares.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 13.—A fight for three-cent fares on the street car lines of this city was begun by Attorney Frank Edgerton of the public service league in a petition to the state railway commission just filed. It is asked to set this rate for all rides of three miles or less from the center of the business district, thus practically creating a "zone" system. Six tickets are now sold in this city for a quarter.

Twenty-three Inches of Snow.

Anaconda, Mont., Oct. 13.—Twenty-three inches of snow fell here prostrating telegraph and telephone wires in all directions and putting out of commission practically all telephones in the city. The streets are nearly impassable because of deep slush and running water.

Cholera in Tripoli.

Tripoli, Oct. 13.—An epidemic of cholera threatens the Italian troops here. Four deaths from the disease have occurred in the native quarter. Soldiers are employed in establishing a better sanitary system. The medical corps is taking every precaution to protect the city from the plague.
